DEAN’S MESSAGE:

As we move forward with plans to establish the NYU Academy of Health Educators, which will bring together the NYU Colleges of Dentistry and Nursing, the School of Medicine, the College of Arts and Science, and the Wagner School of Public Service to focus on the role of faculty in teaching and mentoring, as well as in clinical care and research, I am reminded of the principles upon which Omicron Kappa Upsilon was founded as the national dental honor society in 1914, and of the specific relevance of these principles to the Academy’s mission. OKU was formed, its organizers wrote, “To encourage and develop a spirit of emulation among students in dentistry, and to recognize in an appropriate manner those who shall distinguish themselves by a very high grade of scholarship.”

Implicit in these founding principles is the central importance of the faculty as role models for students, whose admission and membership in the society, according to the preamble of the first OKU Constitution “shall be based upon scholarship and character as manifested by election by the faculty.”

These principles resonate as strongly today as they did in 1914. Indeed, it is because they remain relevant that I am convinced that you, the men and women of Omega Chapter, have an especially vital role to play in helping to fulfill the great potential of the NYU Academy of Health Educators, and, in so doing, to strengthen and advance the OKU legacy.

I offer all of my colleagues in Omega Chapter my hearty congratulations on your manifold contributions to the academic life of our institution, and I look forward to working with you to recognize and honor the importance of teaching and mentoring to the overall student experience.

Sincerely,

Charles N. Bertolami, DDS, DMedSc
Herman Robert Fox Dean

PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE:

I would like to congratulate you on the tremendous achievement of being inducted into OKU, the National Dental Honor Society You should all be proud. You represent the future of our profession – and with that comes the responsibility of being role models and leaders in our profession.

Beyond your responsibility to others, you have a responsibility to yourself to never stop learning. Strive to learn something new every day. This is accomplished by reading, attending courses, problem solving with peers and always seeking a way to improve. Take what you have learned at New York University Dental College as a foundation for your career and continue to learn and improve.

As you refine your technical skills, be steadfast in your commitment to excellent care. Each day we encounter conflicts for which we must choose a path. Keep in mind that you have been chosen for this honor not only for your academic achievements but for your ethical standards as well. The correct path is frequently more difficult and often without reward. Your decisions at critical moments are what will define you as a dentist, and ultimately as an individual.

Beyond providing the best care each day we work, we have a responsibility to encourage our patients to keep healthy habits. We should be promoting not only proper diet and home care, but we should be vigilant about smoking cessation, consistently screening for oral cancer and helping our patients manage their overall health.

As our profession evolves you will be at its center. Be willing to participate in community service, be a mentor to others, get involved in education and research, and provide quality care to your patients. You will then have an enormous positive impact.

On behalf of all the members of OKU I offer my congratulations on your momentous achievement. I wish you all the best of luck in your endeavors, and look forward to interacting with you this year and beyond.

Sincerely,

Denise Estafan, D.D.S., M. S.
OMICRON KAPPA UPSILON OMEGA CHAPTER

Omicron Kappa Upsilon is a National Dental Honor Society founded in 1914 at Northwestern University School of Dentistry. The New York University College of Dentistry Chapter, Omega, was founded by charter on June 6, 1929, and is one of 51 active chapters in North America. Admission is based on scholarship and character and is determined by annual election by active members.

Alumni Members (Associate Members) are selected from the top 20% of the graduating class, as reported to the chapter annually by the Dean of Academic Affairs. From this listing, not more than 12% may be elected each year.

Faculty Members (Active) are selected from the dental college faculty and are those who have been teaching full time for three years or part time for six years. These faculty members must have made outstanding contributions to the art, science, or literature of dentistry.

Lifetime memberships may be granted to active (faculty) members who have been members for 30 years and who have reached the age of 60. Lifetime members are exempt from dues and retain all of the privileges of active members while they remain on the dental school faculty. Omega Chapter is interested in the accomplishments and activities of our members.

Please advise the secretary of your current address so that we can keep our rosters current and you can continue to receive our mailings. We would appreciate having your email address so that you will be able to receive all our future electronic newsletters which will keep you abreast of all the wonderful activities of the Omega Chapter as well as the Annual Convocation and Induction information.

DISTINGUISHED LECTURE SERIES

On Wednesday, October 28, 2009, Dr. Raman Bedi, will give the Distinguished Lecture Address entitled US DENTAL HEALTH REFORMS - HOW TO GET IT RIGHT AS WELL AS WRONG - LESSONS FROM ENGLAND.
Professor Bedi will discuss national reforms of dental payment systems and workforce are challenging and yet necessary to ensure equality of access to care. In September 2002, the UK government published "NHS Dentistry - Options for change" which provided a number of re-configurations for dentistry in England. The aim of the lecture is to provide a commentary on the changes which resulted from 2002-2005. The lessons in attempting a national dental system change in England will be important for the US as the national debate on the Obama health reforms take shape.

Raman Bedi was Chief Dental Officer - England from 2002 to 2005. He is based at King's College London and also holds an honorary chair at University College London and the University of the Western Cape, South Africa. He has examined and lectured in over 40 countries. He was past President of the British Society for Disability and Oral Health (2002), President of the Education Research Group of the International Association for Dental Research (IADR) (2002-2004) and chair of the IADR Regional Development Programme Committee (2002-2004). He has published over 170 scientific papers and 4 books.

Denise received her license at New York University College of Dentistry in 1982 as part of the International Program. She joined the University as a Clinical Instructor in 1983. She taught in the department of Operative Dentistry, Prosthodontics, and Reconstructive and Comprehensive Care, and was promoted to Clinical Associate Professor in 1992. The same year, she began clinical investigative work on CAD/CAM technology, followed by research in the comparative analysis of rate of Ceramic Wear versus Enamel Wear. Denise received her Master’s Degree in Dental Materials in 1995 and was promoted to Associate Professor in 2001. She has over 40 publications in peer-reviewed journals and lectures internationally. Denise is currently a fellow of ACD and the International College of Dentistry. She is responsible for all Pediatric Dentistry outreach activities both in New York City and internationally. Jill also completed a 30 year career in the US Navy and Navy Reserves. She received her Master’s in Public Health in 1996 at New York University and was subsequently also promoted to Clinical Assistant Professor in that same year. In 1999 she was promoted to Clinical Associate Professor. Jill has presented numerous lecture/demonstrations and symposiums at local and national professional meetings.
